VII. c. 39, s. 6.

Assessment of yearly sum in lieu of dower.

- (2) If from peculiar circumstances, such as there being a mill or manufactory upon the land, the commissioners cannot make a fair and just assignment of dower by metes and bounds, they shall assess a yearly sum of money, being as near as may be one-third of the clear yearly rents of the premises, after deducting any rates or assessments payable thereon, and in assessing such yearly sum they shall make allowances and deductions for permanent improvements, as above provided for, and in their report to the sheriff they shall state the amount of such yearly sum and set forth all the evidence taken by them in relation to the same.

VII. c. 40, s. 3.

Apology in mitigation of damages. 4. In an action for libel or slander where the defendant has pleaded a denial of the alleged libel or slander only, or has suffered judgment by default, or judgment has been given against him on motion for judgment on the pleadings, he may give in evidence, in mitigation of damages, that he made or offered a written or printed apology to the plaintiff for such libel or slander before the commencement of the action; or, if the action was commenced before there was an opportunity of making or offering such apology, that he did so as soon afterwards as he had an opportunity. 9 Edw. VII. c. 40, s. 4.

VII. c. 40, s. 5.

Courts may issue subpœnas to any part of Canada.

4. If in any action or suit depending in any of Her Majesty's Superior Courts of Law or Equity in Canada, it appears to the Court, or when not sitting, it appears to any Judge of the Court that it is proper to compel the personal attendance at any trial or enquête or examination of witnesses, of any person who may not be within the jurisdiction of the Court in which the action or suit is pending, the Court or Judge, in their or his discretion, may order that a writ called a writ of subpœna ad testificandum or of subpœna duces tecum shall issue in special form, commanding such person to attend as a witness at such trial or enquête or examination of witnesses wherever he may be in Canada.

Service thereof in any part of Canada to be good.

5. The service of any such writ or process in any part of Canada, shall be as valid and effectual to all intents and purposes, as if the same had been served within the jurisdiction of the Court from which it has issued, according to the practice of such Court.

When not to be issued.

6. No such writ shall be issued in any case in which an action is pending for the same cause of action, in that section of the Province, whether Upper or Lower Canada respectively, within which such witness or witnesses may reside.

Writs to be specially noted.

If expenses paid or tendered.

9. No such certificate of default shall be transmitted by any Court, nor shall any person be punished for neglect or refusal to attend any trial or enquête or examination of witnesses, in obedience to any such subpœna or other similar process, unless it be made to appear to the Court transmitting and also to the Court receiving such certificate, that a reasonable and sufficient sum of money, according to the rate per diem and per mile allowed to witnesses by the law and practice of the Superior Courts of Law within the jurisdiction of which such person was found, to defray the expenses of coming and attending to give evidence and of returning from giving evidence, had been tendered to such person at the time when the writ of subpoena, or other similar process was served upon him.

10. The service of such writs of subpoena or other similar process, in Lower Canada, shall be proved by the certificate of a Bailiff within the jurisdiction where the service has been made, under his oath of office, and such service in Upper Canada by the affidavit of service endorsed on or annexed to such writ by the person who served the same. How service proved.

11. The costs of the attendance of any such witness shall not be taxed against the adverse party to such suit, beyond the amount that would have been allowed on a commission rogatoire, or to examine witnesses, unless the Court or Judge before whom such trial or enquête or examination of witnesses is had, so orders. Costs of attendance provided for.

13. Nothing herein contained shall affect the power of any Court to issue a commission for the examination of witnesses out of its jurisdiction, nor affect the admissibility of any evidence at any trial or proceeding, where such evidence is now by law receivable, on the ground of any witness being beyond the jurisdiction of the Court. Power to issue commissions examine witnesses pre-served.

EXAMINATION OF WITNESSES.

17. A witness may be cross-examined as to previous statements made by him in writing, or reduced into writing, relative to the matter in question, without the writing being shown to him; but if it is intended to contradict him by the writing, his attention shall, before such contradictory proof is given, be called to those parts of the writing which are to be used for the purpose of so contradicting him; and the Judge or other person presiding at any time during the trial or proceeding may require the production of the writing for his inspection, and may thereupon make such use of it for the purposes of the trial or proceeding as he may think fit. Proof of contradictory written statements.

CHAPTER 81.

An Act to prevent Priority among Execution Creditors.

HIS MAJESTY, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, enacts as follows:—

- Short title. 1. This Act may be cited as The Creditors Relief Act.
9 Edw. VII. c. 48, s. 1.
- Interpretation. 2. In this Act,
- “County.” (a) “County” shall include a Provisional Judicial District.
- “County Court.” (b) “County Court” shall include District Court.
- “Execution.” (c) “Execution” shall include a writ of fiery facias and every subsequent writ for giving effect thereto.
- “Judge.” (d) “Judge” shall mean a Judge of the County Court of the county the sheriff of which is required to take the proceedings directed by this Act.
- “Sheriff.” (e) “Sheriff” shall include any officer to whom an execution is directed. 9 Edw. VII. c. 48, s. 2.
- Where Judge is disqualified. 3. Where a Judge is disqualified to act in a matter arising under this Act, a Judge of the County Court of an adjoining county shall have jurisdiction to act in his place. 9 Edw. VII. c. 48, s. 3.
- Priority among execution creditors abolished. 4. Subject to the provisions hereinafter contained, there shall be no priority among creditors by execution from the Supreme Court or from a County Court. 9 Edw. VII. c. 48, s. 4.
- Attachment to be for benefit of all creditors. 5.—(1) A creditor who attaches a debt shall be deemed to do so for the benefit of all creditors of his debtor as well as for himself.
- To whom to be paid. (2) Payment of such debt shall be made to the sheriff of the county in which the garnishee resides or, if there are more garnishees than one in respect of the same debt, then to the sheriff of the county in which any one of them resides.
- Attachments in Division Courts. (3) This section shall not apply to debts attached by proceedings in a division court unless before the amount recovered by the garnishee proceedings is actually received by the creditor an execution against the property of the debtor is placed in the hands of the sheriff of such county.

(4) Where money is paid to a sheriff in whose hands there is no execution against the property of the debtor, and there is in the hands of the sheriff of another county an execution against the property of the debtor, the Court or a Judge on the application of such last mentioned sheriff or of a creditor or of the debtor may direct, on such terms as to costs and otherwise as may seem just, that such money be paid over to such last mentioned sheriff to be distributed by him as if such money had then been paid to him by the garnishee; and the Court or Judge shall fix the compensation to be paid to the sheriff by whom the money was received from the garnishee for his services.

(5) Where money which a sheriff is entitled to receive under the provisions of this section is paid into a division court the sheriff shall be entitled to demand and receive the same from the clerk of such court for the purpose of distributing it under the provisions of this Act.

(6) An attaching creditor shall be entitled to share in respect of his claim against the debtor in any distribution made under the provisions of this Act, but his share shall not exceed the amount recovered by his garnishee proceedings unless he has in due time placed an execution or a certificate given under this Act in the sheriff's hands.

(7) The sheriff shall be entitled to poundage upon money received and distributed by him under the provisions of this section at the rate of one and a quarter per cent. and no more.

(8) If an attached debt which the sheriff is entitled to receive, or any part of it, is received by the attaching creditor the sheriff may recover the same from him; but a clerk of a division court shall not be liable for making payment to the creditor unless at the time of payment he has notice that there is an execution against the property of the debtor in the sheriff's hands. 9 Edw. VII. c. 48, s. 5.

6.—(1) Where a sheriff levies money under an execution against the property of a debtor, or receives money in respect of a debt which has been attached or sold under the provisions of section 16 of The Absconding Debtors' Act, he shall forthwith make an entry, Form 1, in a book to be kept in his office open to public inspection without charge.

(2) The money shall thereafter be distributed rateably among all execution creditors and other creditors whose executions or certificates given under this Act were in the sheriff's hands at the time of the levy or receipt of the money, or who deliver their executions or certificates to the sheriff within one month from the entry, subject to the provisions hereinafter contained as to the retention of dividends in the case of contested claims, and to the payment of the costs of the creditor under whose execution the amount was made; and subject also to the provisions of subsection 3 of the next preceding section, and, as respects money recovered by garnishee proceedings, subject to the payment thereof to the creditor who obtained the attaching order of his costs of such proceedings.

Money realized on sale under interpleader order.

(3) Subsection 2 shall not apply to money received by a sheriff as the proceeds of a sale of property by him under an interpleader order; but upon the determination of the interpleader proceeding in favour of the creditors the money, whether in the sheriff's hands or in court pending such determination, shall, subject to the provisions of subsection 4, be distributed by the sheriff among the creditors contesting the adverse claim.

Rights of creditors in case of interpleader proceedings.

(4) Where proceedings are taken by a sheriff for relief under any provisions relating to interpleader those creditors only who are parties thereto and who agree to contribute pro rata in proportion to the amount of their executions or certificates to the expense of contesting any adverse claim shall be entitled to share in any benefit which may be derived from the contestation of such claim so far as may be necessary to satisfy their executions or certificates.

Order as to carrying on proceedings.

(5) The Judge making the interpleader order may direct that one creditor shall have the carriage of the interpleader proceedings on behalf of all creditors interested, and the costs thereof, as between solicitor and client, shall be a first charge upon the money or goods which may be found by the proceedings to be applicable upon the executions or certificates.

Time allowed in interpleader.

(6) Upon any interpleader application the Judge may allow to other creditors who desire to take part in the contest a reasonable time in which to place their executions or certificates in the sheriff's hands upon such terms as to costs and otherwise as may be deemed just.

Application of subsequent levy.

(7) Where the sheriff, subsequently to the entry, but within the month, levies a further amount from the property of a debtor or receives money in respect of a debt which has been attached or sold the same shall be dealt with as if such amount had been levied or received prior to the entry.

Notice and distribution on further levy.

(8) If, after the month, a further amount is so levied or received a new notice shall be entered and the distribution to be made of the amount so levied or received and of any further amount levied or received within a month of the entry of the last mentioned entry shall be governed by the entry thereof in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this section, and so from time to time as further amounts are so levied or received.

(9) Where a creditor has shared in a previous distribution he shall be entitled to share in a subsequent one only in respect of the amount remaining due to him after crediting what he has received in any previous distribution. Share in subsequent distribution.

(10) In distributing money under this section creditors who have executions against goods or lands only or against goods and lands shall be entitled to share rateably with all others any money realized under execution against either goods or lands or against both, or under an attaching order. Equality of all executions.

(11) Subject to the provisions of subsection 6 of section 5 a creditor shall not be entitled to share in the distribution unless by the delivery of an execution, or otherwise under this Act, he has established a claim against the debtor either alone or jointly with some other person. What creditors may share.

(12) Where money in the hands of the sheriff for distribution is the proceeds of the property of an absconding debtor against whom an order of attachment has been issued under The Absconding Debtors Act, the period mentioned in subsection 2 shall be two months, and subsection 8 shall be read as if the words "the month" in the first line were "the two months." 9 Edw. VII. c. 48, s. 6. Money realized under Absconding Debtors Act. Rev. Stat. c. 82.

7. If a debtor permits an execution issued against him under which any of his goods or chattels are seized by a sheriff to remain unsatisfied in the sheriff's hands until within two days of the time fixed by the sheriff for the sale thereof, or for twenty days after the seizure, or allows an execution against his lands to remain unsatisfied for nine months after it has been placed in the sheriff's hands, the proceedings hereinafter authorized may be taken by other creditors or claimants in respect of debts which are overdue. 9 Edw. VII. c. 48, s. 7. Proceedings where debtor allows execution to remain unsatisfied.

8.—(1) An affidavit, Form 2, of the debt and the particulars thereof may be made in duplicate by the creditor, or by one of the creditors in case of a joint debt, or by a person cognizant of the facts. Affidavit of creditor.

(2) Prior to or simultaneously with the filing with the Clerk of the County Court of the affidavit there shall be filed with him a certificate of the sheriff, or an affidavit, showing that such proceedings have been had against the debtor as entitle the creditor to proceed under this Act. satisfied.

(2) Save as aforesaid after a certificate has been delivered to the sheriff, the withdrawal or expiry of the execution upon which the proceedings are founded, or any stay of the same, or the satisfaction of the plaintiff's claim thereon, or the setting aside or return of the execution, shall not affect the proceedings which may be taken under this Act, and except so far as the action taken with respect to the execution may affect the amount to be levied, the sheriff shall levy upon the property of the debtor, as he would have done had the execution remained in his hands in full force for execution, and he may also take the like proceedings as he would have been entitled to take had the execution been a writ of venditioni exponas.

(3) Where a debtor, without a sale by the sheriff, pays to him part of the amount owing in respect of an execution or certificate in his hands, and there is at the time no other execution or certificate in his hands, he shall apply the same on the execution or certificate, and section 6 shall not apply to the money so paid. 9 Edw. VII. c. 48, s. 21.

22.—(1) Where proceedings have been taken against a debtor under The Absconding Debtors Act, and his property has been attached under an order of attachment before an execution has been placed in the hands of the sheriff, and the money levied is the proceeds of such property or a part thereof, the cost of the order of attachment, or, if there are more than one, the one first placed in the sheriff's hands and the proceedings thereon shall have priority over the claim of all other creditors.

(2) Where an attaching creditor is entitled to priority under subsection 1 the priority provided for by subsection 2 of section 6 shall not be given to the execution creditor.

23.—(1) The Clerk of the County Court shall ascertain and state in his certificate the amount of the costs to which the claimant is entitled as against the debtor.

(2) Such costs shall be the following:

(a) For serving the affidavit of claim and notice, in the case of claims over $400, on the scale of the Supreme Court, and in the case of claims exceeding $200 and not exceeding $400, on the County Court scale, and in the case of claims of $200 and under, on the division court scale; but if the claim does not exceed $200 no greater fees are to be allowed than would be allowed to a division court bailiff for the service of a division court summons and mileage if the claim had been sued in the proper division court;

(b) The fees paid to the Clerk of the County Court, on the scale for like proceedings in the County Court, unless the claim does not exceed $200, in which case his fees shall be those allowable for like proceedings in the division court;

(c) Where there is no contest, $5 for fees of a solicitor, if one is employed, unless the amount of the claim does not exceed $200, in which case the sum of $2 shall be allowed;

(d) Where there is a contest, such additional costs as the judge may allow, to be taxed on the scale of the Supreme Court, County Court, or division court, according as the amount in dispute is within the jurisdiction of one or other of such courts;

(e) The costs of obtaining an order for substitutional service or other similar order and of such service, and of or incidental to service out of Ontario, if the claim is within the jurisdiction of the division court, only such costs as would have been allowed in the division court. 9 Edw. VII. c. 48, s. 23.

Payment to sheriff of fund in Court.

24. Where there is in any Court a fund belonging to an execution debtor, or to which he is entitled, the same or a sufficient part thereof to meet the executions and certificates in the sheriff's hands, may, on the application of the sheriff or any person interested, be paid over to the sheriff, and the same shall be deemed to be money levied under execution within the meaning of this Act. 9 Edw. VII. c. 48, s. 24.

Money made by receiver.

25. Where a judgment creditor obtains the appointment of a receiver by way of equitable execution of property of his debtor, the receiver shall pay into Court the money received by him by virtue of his receivership, and the same shall be subject to the provisions of the next preceding section, but the creditor shall be entitled to be paid thereout the costs of and incidental to the receivership order and the proceedings thereon in priority to the claims of all other creditors. 9 Edw. VII. c. 48, s. 25.

Goods in hands of Division Court
bailiff.

26.—(1) If the sheriff does not find property of a debtor leviable under the executions and certificates in his hands sufficient to pay the same in full, but finds property or the proceeds thereof in the hands of the bailiff of a division court under an execution or attachment against the debtor, the sheriff shall demand and obtain them from the bailiff, who shall forthwith deliver the same to the sheriff, with a copy of every execution and attachment in his hands against the debtor, and a memorandum showing the amount to be levied under the execution, including the bailiff's fees, and the date upon which each execution or attachment was received by him.

bailiff.

(2) If a bailiff fails to deliver any of such property or the proceeds thereof he shall pay double the value of that which is retained, which may be recovered by the sheriff from him with costs of suit, and shall be accounted for by the sheriff as part of the estate of the debtor. Penalty for default.

(3) The costs and disbursements of the bailiff shall be a first charge upon such property or the proceeds thereof and shall be paid by the sheriff to the bailiff upon demand, after being taxed by the division court clerk. Costs.

(4) The sheriff shall distribute the proceeds among the creditors entitled to share in the distribution and the division court execution creditors shall be entitled without further proof to stand in the same position as creditors whose executions are in the sheriff's hands. 9 Edw. VII. c. 48, s. 26. Distribution of proceeds.

27. Where the amount levied by the sheriff is not sufficient to pay the executions and certificates with costs in full the money shall be applied to the payment rateably of such debts and costs of the creditors, after retaining the sheriff's fees, including poundage, and after payment in full of the taxed costs and the costs of the execution to the creditor at whose instance and under whose execution the seizure and levy were made where he is entitled to priority therefor under the provisions of this Act. 9 Edw. VII. c. 48, s. 27. Apportionment of money when amount insufficient to pay claim in full.

28. The sheriff, if directed by an endorsement upon a certificate, shall, in addition to the amounts named therein, levy interest on such amounts from the date of the certificate, or from the date named in that behalf in the certificate, and also $1.35 for the disbursements on every renewal of the certificate; and where such renewal is made upon the application of a solicitor he shall also levy $1.25 for the solicitor's costs on the renewal. 9 Edw. VII. c. 48, s. 28. Levy of interest and costs of renewals.

29. Where money is to be distributed by the sheriff under this Act he shall not be entitled to poundage as upon separate executions or certificates, but only upon the net proceeds distributable by him at the same rate as if the whole amount had been payable upon one execution. 9 Edw. VII. c. 48, s. 29. Sheriff's poundage.

30.—(1) Where money is made under an execution it shall be taken to have been made under all the executions and certificates entitled to the benefit thereof, and, upon payment being made to the person entitled under any such execution or certificate, the sheriff shall endorse thereon a memorandum of the amount so paid, but he shall not, except on the request of the party who issued the execution, or by direction of the Court out of which the same issued, or of a Judge thereof, return the execution until the same has been fully Application of money made under execution. Return.

satisfied or has expired, in which latter case the sheriff shall make a formal return of the amount made thereunder.

Compelling payment by sheriff.

(2) The like proceedings may be taken to compel payment by the sheriff of money payable in respect to a certificate as can now be had to compel the return by the sheriff of an execution. 9 Edw. VII. c. 48, s. 30.

Statement to be kept in sheriff's office, pending distribution.

31. Pending the distribution the sheriff shall keep, in the book mentioned in section 6, a statement, Form 6, showing the following particulars:—

(a) The amounts levied or received and the dates of levy or receipt;

(b) Each execution, certificate or order in his hands at the time of making the entry, Form 1, or subsequently received during the month, the amount thereof, for debt and costs, and the date of receipt, and such statement shall be amended from time to time as additional amounts are levied or received or further executions, certificates or orders are received. 9 Edw. VII. c. 48, s. 31.

Sheriff to give information as to estate of debtor.

32. The sheriff shall at all times without fee answer any reasonable question which he may be asked orally in respect to the property of the debtor by a creditor or any one acting upon his behalf, and shall facilitate the obtaining by him of full information respecting the same and the probable dividend to be realized therefrom in his county, or any other information in connection with the property which the creditor may reasonably desire to obtain. 9 Edw. VII. c. 48, s. 32.

Distribution
by sheriff where amount levied insufficient to meet all claims.

33.—(1) Where at the time for distribution the money is insufficient to pay all claims in full the sheriff shall first prepare for examination by the debtor and his creditors a list of the creditors entitled to share in the distribution, with the amount due to each for principal, interest and costs.

Contents of list.

(2) The list shall be so arranged as to show the amount payable to each creditor, and the total amount to be distributed; and the sheriff shall deliver, or send by registered post to each creditor or his solicitor, a copy of the list.

Time for distribution.

(3) If within eight days after all the copies have been delivered or posted, or within such further time as the Judge may allow, no objection is made as provided by this Act the sheriff shall make distribution forthwith pursuant to such list.

Where objection made.

(4) If objection is made the sheriff shall forthwith distribute rateably so much of the money made, and among such persons, as will not interfere with the effect of the objection in case the same should be allowed.

(5) Any person affected by the proposed scheme of distribution may contest the same by giving, within the time mentioned in subsection 3, a notice in writing to the sheriff stating his objection to the scheme and the grounds thereof. Right of contestation.

(6) The contestant shall within eight days thereafter apply to the Judge for an order adjudicating upon the matter in dispute, otherwise the contestation shall be taken to be abandoned. Order.

(7) The contestant shall, within the time mentioned in the next preceding subsection, obtain from the Judge an appointment for hearing and determining the matter in dispute. Appointment.

(8) A copy of the appointment and a notice in writing, Form 7, of the objections stating the grounds thereof shall be served by the contestant upon the debtor, unless he is the contestant, and upon the creditors or such of them as the Judge may direct. Service.

(9) The Judge may determine any question in dispute in a summary manner, or may direct an action to be brought or an issue to be tried with or without a jury in any Court and in any county for the determination thereof, and may make such order as to the costs of the proceedings as he may deem just, and the provisions of subsections 2 and 3 of section 14 shall apply. Determination of dispute.

(10) Where a claimant is held to be not entitled, or to be entitled to part only of his claim, the money retained pending the contestation, or the portion as to which the claimant shall have failed, shall be distributed among the creditors who would have been entitled thereto as the same would have been distributed had the claim in respect thereof not been made. Distribution of money retained.

(11) Where a debtor has executed a mortgage or other charge, otherwise valid, upon his property or any part thereof after the receipt of an execution by the sheriff and before distribution, such mortgage or charge shall not prevent the sheriff from selling the property under any execution or certificate placed in his hands before distribution as if such mortgage or charge had not been given, nor prevent creditors whose executions or certificates are subsequent thereto from sharing in the distribution; but in distributing the money realized from the sale of such property the sheriff shall deduct and pay to the person entitled thereto the amount of such mortgage or charge from the amount which would otherwise be payable out of the proceeds of such property to such subsequent creditors. Rights of subsequent execution creditors where first execution followed by a mortgage.

(12) In the case provided for in the next preceding subsection the sheriff shall prepare a separate scheme of distribution of the proceeds of the encumbered property without reference to the mortgage or charge, and, from the dividends Scheme of distribution in above case.

payable according to such scheme to subsequent creditors, there shall be deducted the amount of the mortgage or charge and the amount so deducted shall be paid to the encumbrancer. 9 Edw. VII. c. 48, s. 33.

Directions by Judge to avoid unnecessary parties and trials.

34. Where several creditors are interested in a contestation, either for or against the same, the Judge shall give such directions for saving the expense of an unnecessary number of parties and trials, and of unnecessary proceedings, as he may deem just, and shall direct by whom and in what proportions any costs incurred in the contestation, or in any proceedings thereunder, shall be paid, and whether any and what costs shall be paid out of the money levied. 9 Edw. VII. c. 48, s. 34.

Direction by Judge to sheriff where claim is disputed.

35.—(1) The Judge may direct the sheriff to levy for an amount sufficient to cover a claim which is in dispute, or part thereof, or if it appears to the Judge that it is improbable that the debtor has other sufficient property he may direct the sheriff to retain in his hands during the contestation the share which, if the claim is sustained, will be apportionable to it, or a part thereof.

Authority of sheriff under order.

(2) An order to levy under this section shall confer on the sheriff the same authority as he would have under an execution. 9 Edw. VII. c. 48, s. 35.

Effect of decisions.

36. The decision of a Judge of the County Court or of a Divisional Court on an appeal shall bind the debtor and all his creditors, unless it appears that the decision was obtained by fraud or collusion. 9 Edw. VII. c. 48, s. 36.

Deposit of money in bank.

37.—(1) Where money comes into the hands of a sheriff he shall, whenever the same amounts to $100, deposit it in some incorporated bank designated for that purpose by order of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, or, where there is no such bank, in some incorporated bank in which public money of Ontario is then being deposited.

Special account.

(2) The deposit shall be made in a special account in the name of the sheriff as "Trustee for the creditors of (the debtor)". 9 Edw. VII. c. 48, s. 37.

Attaching orders by sheriff or creditors.

38. Where there are in the sheriff's hands several executions and certificates, and there does not appear to be sufficient property to pay all and his own fees, he may apply for an order attaching any debt owing to the execution debtor by any person resident in the county of such sheriff, whether the debt is owing by such person alone or jointly with another person resident or not resident in such county, and to procure the order and to obtain and enforce payment of the debt, the sheriff may take the same proceedings as a creditor; and in such case an execution may be directed to him in the same manner as if the attachment were by a creditor; and the proceeds of the debt attached shall be dealt with and distributed in the same manner as if he had realized the same under execution. 9 Edw. VII. c. 48, s. 38.

39. If any party to a contestation or matter upon which a Judge has rendered or made a final judgment or order is dissatisfied with such judgment or order, and the same is in respect to a question involving a sum greater than $100, he may appeal therefrom to a Divisional Court as nearly as may be according to the practice in force in respect of appeals from a County Court or a Judge thereof. 9 Edw. VII. c. 48, s. 39.

40. For the purpose of giving effect to this Act and carrying out its provisions a Judge shall have all the powers which a County Court or a Judge thereof has by law for other purposes; and any proceedings erroneously taken under this Act may be set aside by the Judge, with or without costs as he thinks fit. 9 Edw. VII. c. 48, s. 40.

41. Upon any proceeding before the Judge the evidence may be taken orally or by affidavit as the Judge may direct. 9 Edw. VII. c. 48, s. 41.

9 Edw. VII. c. 48, s. 42.

43. Except where inconsistent with this Act, the provisions of The Judicature Act and Rules of Court as to practice and procedure shall apply to proceedings under this Act. 9 Edw. VII. c. 48, s. 43.

Order. 2. The order shall not be made except in a pending action. 9 Edw. VII. c. 49, s. 3.

PROCEDURE TO OBTAIN ATTACHMENT.

Affidavit. 4.—(1) Upon affidavit made by a plaintiff or his agent that a defendant is indebted to the plaintiff in a sum exceeding $100, stating the cause of action, and that the deponent has good reason to believe and does believe that such defendant has departed from Ontario and has gone to some place, stating it, to which he is believed to have fled, or that the deponent is unable to obtain any information as to the place to which he has gone, with intent to defraud his creditors or any of them, or to avoid being arrested or served with process, and was, at the time of his so departing, possessed to his own use and benefit of real or personal property in Ontario not exempt by law from seizure under execution, and upon the further affidavit of two other persons that they are well acquainted with such defendant and have good reason to believe and do believe that he has departed from Ontario with intent to defraud his creditors or any of them, or to avoid being arrested or served with process, a Judge of the Supreme Court or of a County Court may make an order

5. A copy of the order shall be served upon the defendant. 9 Edw. VII. c. 49, s. 5. Service of order.

6. The order shall remain in force for six months. 9 Edw. VII. c. 49, s. 6. Term of validity.

VII. c. 49, s. 7. Certified copies of order.

8. All the property of an absconding debtor liable to seizure under execution may be attached in the same manner as it might be seized under execution; and the sheriff to whom the order of attachment is directed shall forthwith take into his charge all such property, according to the exigency of the order, and shall be allowed all necessary disbursements for keeping the same, and he shall immediately call to his assistance two substantial freeholders of his county, and with their aid shall make a just and true inventory of all the personal property, evidence of title or debts, books of account, vouchers and papers that he has attached, and shall return such inventory signed by himself and such freeholders, together with the order. 9 Edw. (2) The debtor may again be allowed to go out of close ^{New bond.} custody on giving to the sheriff a new bond, with sureties as aforesaid. 9 Edw. VII. c. 50, s. 47.

(2) An order for the discharge of the debtor may be made on his showing that he has submitted himself to be examined and made full answer as aforesaid and has thereafter given to the plaintiff or his solicitor five days' notice of his intention to apply. 9 Edw. VII. c. 50, s. 48. ^{Order for discharge.}

DISCHARGE OF DEBTOR FROM CUSTODY.

A debtor in custody in execution may apply to be discharged.

51. A debtor in close custody in execution or on mesne process, and a debtor arrested under a writ of capias ad satisfaciendum, though he is not in close custody but has given bail, may, after giving to the person at whose instance he is in close custody or has been so arrested ten days' notice in writing of his intention to do so, apply to the Court or a Judge to be discharged. 9 Edw. VII. c. 50, s. 51.

Examination of debtor as to his property, etc.

52. Where the notice is given by a debtor in close custody in execution or by a debtor who has been arrested under a writ of capias ad satisfaciendum and has given bail, the person at whose instance he is in close custody or has been so arrested may apply to the Court or a Judge for an order that the debtor be examined viva voce on oath for the purpose of discovering any property or effects which he is possessed of or entitled to, or which are in the possession or under the control of any other person for the use or benefit of the debtor, or which the debtor having been in possession of may have fraudulently disposed of for the purpose of hindering, delaying, defrauding or defeating his creditors, and touching the debtor's estate and effects and the circumstances under which he contracted the debt or incurred the liability which was the subject of the action in which judgment has been recovered against him, and as to the means and expectations he then had, and as to the property and means he still has, and as to the disposal he may have made of any of his property. 9 Edw. VII. c. 50, s. 52.

Application of debtor for discharge.

53.—(1) Upon an application under section 51, and upon the debtor making oath that he is not worth $20 exclusive of his goods and chattels exempt from seizure under execution, and, in the case of a debtor in execution, that he has submitted himself to be examined pursuant to any order which may have been made for his examination, or that no order for his examination has been served, and where such examination has been had, if the matter thereof is deemed satisfactory, and, in the case of a debtor confined in close custody on mesne process, that he does not believe the demand of the plaintiff to be just and for that reason and no other resists payment of it and refuses to suffer judgment to be entered against him for the sum sworn to, and if the cross examination, if any, of the debtor upon his affidavit is deemed satisfactory, the debtor shall be discharged from custody, but the discharge shall not be a release or satisfaction of the judgment or of the claim of the plaintiff or deprive the plaintiff of any remedy against the debtor or his property.

Discharge and its effects.

(2) A debtor in close custody upon mesne process may be cross examined upon his affidavit according to the practice of the court as to cross examination upon an affidavit on a motion. 9 Edw. VII. c. 50, s. 53. Cross examination of debtor on affidavit.

54. In the case of a debtor in execution it may be made a condition of his discharge that he shall first, by assignment or conveyance to be approved of by the Court or a Judge, assign and convey to an assignee for the benefit of his creditors any right or interest he may have in and to any property real or personal, credits or effects, other than goods and chattels exempt from seizure under execution, and in the case of a debtor in close custody on mesne process it may be made a condition of his discharge that he shall first suffer the plaintiff to have judgment against him for the sum sworn to or such part thereof as to the Court or Judge may seem just. 9 Edw. VII. c. 50, s. 54. Discharge may be on condition of assignment by debtor.

55. In the case of a debtor in execution, if it appears that the debt for which he is in close custody or has been arrested was contracted by fraud, or breach of trust, or under false pretences, or that he wilfully contracted the debt without having had at the time a reasonable expectation of being able to pay or discharge it and with intent to defraud, the Court or Judge may order the debtor to be remanded into close custody for any period not exceeding twelve months and to be then discharged. 9 Edw. VII. c. 50, s. 55. Recommitment in cases of fraud, etc.

56. Where the discharge has been unduly or fraudulently obtained by a false allegation of circumstances which, if true, would have entitled the debtor to be discharged, he shall, upon the same being made to appear to the satisfaction of the Court or a Judge, be liable to be again taken in execution or remanded to his former custody by order of the Court or Judge. 9 Edw. VII. c. 50, s. 56. Debtor's liability to be retaken in execution.

57. The Court or Judge making an order for the examination of a debtor under this Act may direct the sheriff or gaoler having the custody of the debtor, to bring him before the Court or Judge or before some person to be named in the order for the purpose of being examined, and the sheriff or gaoler shall take the debtor before the Court or Judge or the person so named for examination in the same manner as if the sheriff or gaoler were acting in obedience to a writ of habeas corpus ad testificandum. 9 Edw. VII. c. 50, s. 57. Production of debtor for examination.

58. A written order under the hand of the judgment creditor or of the solicitor by whom a writ of capias ad satisfaciendum has been issued, shall justify the sheriff, gaoler or officer in whose custody the debtor is under the writ, in discharging him, unless, where the order is given by the solicitor, the party for whom such solicitor professes to act has given written notice to the contrary to the sheriff, gaoler or officer; but such discharge shall not be a satisfaction of the debt; and nothing herein contained shall justify the solicitor in giving an order for discharge without the consent of his client. 9 Edw. VII. c. 50, s. 58.

SAVING OF REMEDIES UNDER OTHER WRITS OF EXECUTION.

When plaintiff may issue other writs.

59. Neither the taking of a debtor in execution under a writ of capias ad satisfaciendum nor his imprisonment thereunder or under the provisions of this Act nor his discharge from custody, by the voluntary action of his creditor or under the powers conferred by this Act, shall operate as a satisfaction or extinguishment of the debt or deprive the creditor of the right to take out execution or other process against the property of the debtor or to take any other proceeding against him in the same manner as if the debtor had not been taken in execution or discharged out of custody. 9 Edw. VII. c. 50, s. 59.

VII. c. 51, s. 6.

16.—(1) The jurisdiction of the Judge under this Act shall not be ousted by the raising of a question of title to land or of the right to an easement or privilege if the Judge is of opinion that the question is not raised in good faith but only for the purpose of ousting his jurisdiction.

(2) Where the Judge is of opinion that the question is^{Idem.} raised in good faith and not for the purpose of ousting his jurisdiction no further proceedings shall be taken upon the application, but either party shall be entitled to an order from a Judge of the Supreme Court removing the proceedings into that Court upon such terms as to the payment of costs or otherwise as he may think fit; and thereafter the action shall proceed in the Supreme Court as if originally commenced therein and as if the defendant had entered an appearance; but the Supreme Court or a Judge thereof may give such direction thereof as to procedure as may be deemed proper.

(3) In the cases provided for in subsection 1 the award^{Saving of rights.} shall conclude the parties only for the purposes of the application and not in any other action or proceeding. 9 Edw. VII. c. 53, s. 16.

- (h) "Tenant in tail entitled to a base fee" shall mean ^{"Tenant in tail entitled to a base fee."} a person entitled to a base fee, or to the ultimate beneficial interest in a base fee, and who, if the base fee had not been created, would have been actual tenant in tail.

(2) Every assurance already made or hereafter to be made ^{Settlement.} whether by deed, will, Act of this Legislature or otherwise, by which land heretofore has been or may hereafter be entailed, or agreed or directed to be entailed, shall be deemed a settlement.

(3) Every appointment made in exercise of any power ^{Appointment in exercise of a power under a settlement.} contained in a settlement, or of any other power arising out of the power contained in a settlement, shall be considered as a part of such settlement, and the estate created by such appointment shall be considered as having been created by such settlement.

(4) Where such settlement is made by will the time of ^{What deemed date of settlement.} the death of the testator shall be considered the time when such settlement was made. 10 Edw. VII. c. 52, s. 2.

VII. c. 52, s. 4. ^{Power to dispose of lands in fee simple or for a less estate, etc.}

owner if no absolute disposition thereof had been made, the first of such prior estates, if more than one, being all for the purposes of this Act deemed the prior estate, shall be the protector of the settlement so far as regards the land in which such prior estate is subsisting, and shall, for all the purposes of this Act, be deemed the owner of such prior estate although the same may have been charged or incumbered either by the owner thereof or by the settlor or otherwise howsoever, and although the whole of the rents and profits are exhausted, or are required for the payment of the charges and incumbrances on such prior estate, and although such prior estate may have been absolutely disposed of by the owner thereof, or by or in consequence of the bankruptcy or insolvency of such owner, or by any other act or default of such owner; and an estate by the curtesy in respect of the estate tail, or of any prior estate created by the same settlement, shall be deemed a prior estate under the same settlement within the meaning of this section; and an estate by way of resulting use or trust to or for the settlor shall be deemed an estate under the same settlement within the meaning of this section. 10 Edw. the protector where the
prior estate is,

15. Where under a settlement there is more than one estate prior to an estate tail, and the person who is the owner, within the meaning of this Act, of such prior estate in respect of which, but for the last preceding two sections or one of them, he would have been the protector of the settlement, is by virtue of such sections, or either of them, excluded from being the protector, then the person, if any, who, if such estate did not exist, would be the protector of the settlement shall be such protector. 10 Edw. VII. c. 52, s. 15.

Power to any settlor to appoint protector.

16. Any settlor entailing land may appoint, by the settlement by which the land is entailed, any number of persons in esse, not exceeding three, to be protector of the settlement in lieu of the person who would have been the protector if this section had not been enacted, and either for the whole or any part of the period for which such person might have continued protector; and, by means of a power to be inserted in such settlement, to perpetuate, during the whole or any part of such period, the protectorship of the settlement in any one person or number of persons in esse whom the donee of the power thinks proper, by deed, to appoint protector of the settlement in the place of any one person, or number of persons, who may die, or, by deed, relinquish his or their office of protector; and the person or persons so appointed shall, in case of there being no other person then protector of the settlement, be the protector, and shall, in case of there being any other person then protector of the settlement, be protector jointly with such other person; but the number of the persons to compose the protector by virtue or means of any such appointment shall never exceed three. 10 Edw. VII. c. 52, s. 16.

Registration of deeds appointing protectors.

17.—(1) Every deed by which a protector is appointed under a power in a settlement, and every deed by which a protector relinquishes his office shall be void unless registered in the registry office of the registry division wherein the land referred to lies, within six months after the execution thereof.

(2) The person who, but for the next preceding section, ^{Who may be eligible as protector.} would have been sole protector of the settlement may be one of the persons to be appointed protector under that section, if the settlor thinks fit, and shall, unless otherwise directed by the settlor, act as sole protector, if the other persons constituting the protector have ceased to be so by death or relinquishment of the office by deed, and no other person has been appointed in their place. 10 Edw. VII. c. 52, s. 17.

18.—(1) If any person, protector of a settlement, ^{Supreme Court as protector in cases of disability.}

(a) Is a lunatic, idiot, or of unsound mind, whether he has or has not been so found; or

(b) Is convicted of treason or felony; or

(c) Not being the owner of a prior estate under a settlement is an infant; or,

(d) If it is uncertain whether he is living or dead, the Supreme Court shall be the protector of the settlement in lieu of such person.

(2) If any settlor entailing land declares, in the settlement ^{Idem,} by which the land is entailed, that the person who, as owner ^{if no appointment.} of a prior estate under such settlement, would be entitled to be protector of the settlement shall not be the protector, and does not appoint any person to be protector in his stead, the Supreme Court shall, as to the land in which the prior estate is subsisting, be the protector of the settlement during the continuance of such estate.

(3) If in any other case there is subsisting under a settle- ^{Idem.} ment an estate prior to an estate tail under the same settlement, and such prior estate is sufficient to qualify the owner thereof to be protector of the settlement, and there happens at any time to be no protector of the settlement as to the land in which the prior estate is subsisting, the Supreme Court shall, while there is no such protector and the prior estate is subsisting, be the protector of the settlement as to such land. 10 Edw. VII. c. 52, s. 18.

19. If at the time when any person, actual tenant in tail ^{Requirement of consent of protector to disposition.} of land under a settlement, but not entitled to the remainder or reversion in fee immediately expectant on the determination of his estate tail, is desirous of making, under this Act, a disposition of the land entailed, there is a protector of such settlement, then the consent of such protector shall be requisite to enable such actual tenant in tail to dispose of the land entailed to the full extent to which he is hereinbefore authorized to dispose of the same; but such actual tenant in tail may, without such consent, make a disposition under this Act of the land entailed, which shall be good against all persons who, by force of any estate tail vested in or which might be claimed by, or which, but for some previous act or default, would have been vested in or might have been claimed by the person making the disposition at the time of his making the same, may claim the land entailed. 10 Edw. VII. c. 52, s. 19.

In case of
into base fee.

20. Where an estate tail has been converted into a base fee, so long as there is a protector of the settlement by which the estate tail was created, the consent of such protector shall be requisite to enable the person who would have been tenant of the estate tail if the same had not been barred, to exercise, as to the land in respect of which there is such protector, the power of disposition hereinbefore contained. 10 Edw. VII. c. 52, s. 20.

Powers of protector.

21. Any advice, shift, or contrivance by which it is attempted to control the protector of a settlement in giving his consent, or to prevent him in any way from using his absolute discretion in regard to his consent, and also any agreement entered into by the protector of a settlement to withhold his consent, shall be void; and the protector of a settlement shall not be deemed to be a trustee in respect of his power of consent; and no Court shall control or interfere to restrain the exercise of his power of consent or treat his giving consent as a breach of trust. 10 Edw. VII. c. 52, s. 21.

Exclusion of certain rules of equity.

22. The rules of equity in relation to dealings and transactions between the donee of a power and any object of the power in whose favour the same may be exercised shall not apply to dealings and transactions between the protector of a settlement and a tenant in tail under the same settlement upon the occasion of the protector giving his consent to a disposition by a tenant in tail under this Act. 10 Edw. VII. c. 52, s. 22.

Confirmation of avoidable estate by a subsequent disposition under this Act.

23.—(1) Where a tenant in tail of land under a settlement has created in such land, or any part thereof, a voidable estate in favour of a purchaser for valuable consideration and afterwards, by an assurance other than a lease not requiring registration under section 26, makes a disposition, under this Act, of the land in which such voidable estate has been created, or any part thereof, such disposition, whatever its object may be, and whatever may be the extent of the estate intended to be thereby created, shall, if made by the tenant in tail with the consent of the protector of the settlement, or by the tenant in tail alone, if there be no such protector, have the effect of confirming such voidable estate in the land thereby disposed of to its full extent as against all persons except those whose rights are saved by this Act.

Consent of protector.

(2) If, at the time of making such disposition, there is a protector of the settlement, and such protector does not consent to the disposition, and the tenant in tail is not without such consent capable under this Act of confirming the voidable estate to its full extent, then such disposition shall have the effect of confirming such voidable estate so far as such tenant in tail would then be capable under this Act of confirming the same without such consent.

(3) If such disposition is made to a purchaser for valuable consideration, not having express notice of the voidable estate, the voidable estate shall not be confirmed as against such purchaser and the person claiming under him. 10 Edw. VII. c. 52, s. 23. Exception.

24. If a base fee in any land and the remainder or reversion in fee in the same land are united in the same person, and there is no intermediate estate between the base fee and the remainder or reversion, the base fee shall not merge, but shall be ipso facto enlarged into as large an estate as the tenant in tail, with the consent of the protector, if any, might have created by any disposition under this Act, if such remainder or reversion had been vested in any other person. 10 Edw. VII. c. 52, s. 24. Enlargement of base fees when united with the immediate reversion or remainder.

25.—(1) Every disposition of land under this Act by a tenant in tail thereof shall be effected by some one of the assurances, not being a will, by which such tenant in tail could have made the disposition if his estate were an estate at law in fee simple absolute, and no disposition by a tenant in tail shall be of any force, under this Act, unless made or evidenced by deed. Methods whereby tenant in tail must make a disposition.

(2) No disposition by a tenant in tail resting only in contract, either expressed or implied, or otherwise, and whether supported by a valuable or meritorious consideration or not, shall be of any force, under this Act, notwithstanding such disposition is made or evidenced by deed. 10 Edw. VII. c. 52, s. 25. Invalidity under Act of mere contracts.

26. No assurance by which any disposition of land is effected under this Act by a tenant in tail thereof, except a lease for any term not exceeding 21 years, to commence from or within twelve months from the date of such lease when such a lease is at rack-rent or not less than five-sixth parts of rack-rent, and except a lease made under the powers conferred by section 33 of The Settled Estates Act, shall have any operation under this Act unless it is registered in the registry office of the registry division wherein the land referred to lies within six months after the execution thereof. 10 Edw. VII. c. 52, s. 26; 1 Geo. V. c. 17, s. 40. Necessity for registration of assurances by a tenant in tail other than certain leases.

27.—(1) The consent of a protector of a settlement to the disposition under this Act of a tenant in tail shall be given either by the same assurance by which the disposition When consent of protector to be given.

is effected or by a deed distinct from the assurance, and executed either on or at any time before the day on which the assurance is made, otherwise the consent shall be void.

distinct deed.

(2) If the protector of a settlement gives his consent to the disposition of a tenant in tail by a distinct deed it shall be considered that such protector has given an absolute and unqualified consent, unless, in such deed, he refers to the particular assurance by which the disposition is effected, and confines his consent to the disposition thereby made.

Irrevocability of a consent.

(3) The protector of a settlement who, under this Act, has given his consent to the disposition of a tenant in tail shall not revoke such consent.

A married woman
protector.

(4) A married woman being, either alone or jointly with her husband, protector of a settlement may, under this Act, in the same manner as if she were a feme sole, give her consent to the disposition of a tenant in tail.

Necessity for registration of
distinct deed.

(5) The consent of the protector of a settlement to the disposition of a tenant in tail shall, if given by a deed distinct from the assurance by which the disposition is effected, be void unless such deed is registered in the registry office of the registry division wherein the land referred to lies, either at or before the time of the registration of the assurance. 10 Edw. VII. c. 52, s. 27.

Equitable jurisdiction of the courts excluded from giving any effect to dispositions in tail, etc.

28.—(1) In the case of a disposition of land under this Act by the tenant in tail thereof, and in the case of a consent by the protector of a settlement to such a disposition, the equitable jurisdiction of the Courts in regard to the specific performance of contracts and the supplying of defects in the execution of the powers of disposition given by this Act to tenants in tail, or the powers of consent given by this Act to protectors of settlements, and the supplying under any circumstances of the want of execution of such powers of disposition and consent respectively, and in regard to giving effect in any other manner to any act or deed by a tenant in tail or protector of a settlement, which before the passing of The Administration of Justice Act of 1873 would not, in a Court of Law, be an effectual disposition or consent within the meaning of this Act shall be altogether excluded, either on the behalf of a person claiming for a valuable or meritorious consideration or otherwise.

36 V. c. 8.

Idem.

(2) No disposition of land under this Act by a tenant in tail thereof in equity, and no consent by a protector of a settlement to such a disposition, shall be of any force unless such disposition or consent would have been, in case of an estate tail at law, before The Administration of Justice Act of 1873, an effectual disposition or consent within the meaning of this Act in a Court of Law. 10 Edw. VII. c. 52, s. 28.

29. Where the Supreme Court is the protector of a settlement such Court, while protector of the settlement, shall, on motion or petition in a summary way by a tenant in tail under such settlement, have full power to consent to a disposition, under this Act by such tenant in tail; and the disposition to be made by such tenant in tail upon such motion or petition shall be such as may be approved of by the Court, and the Court may make such orders in the matter as may be thought necessary; and if the Court, in lieu of any person is protector of a settlement, and there is another person protector of the same settlement jointly with such first mentioned person, the disposition by the tenant in tail, though approved of by the Court, shall not be valid unless such other person, being protector, consents thereto in the manner in which the consent of the protector is, by this Act, required to be given. 10 Edw. VII. c. 52, s. 29.

When the Supreme Court may consent to a disposition by a tenant in tail.

30. Where the Supreme Court is the protector of a settlement no document or instrument, as evidence of the consent of such protector to the disposition of a tenant in tail under such settlement, shall be requisite beyond the order in obedience to which the disposition is made. 10 Edw. VII. c. 52, s. 30.

Evidence.

31. Land to be sold, whether freehold or leasehold, or of any other tenure, where the money arising from the sale thereof is subject to be invested in the purchase of land to be settled so that any person, if the land were purchased, would have an estate tail therein, and also money subject to be invested in the purchase of land to be settled so that any person, if the land were purchased, would have an estate tail therein, shall, for all the purposes of this Act, be treated as the land to be purchased, and be considered subject to the same estates as the land to be purchased would, if purchased, have been actually subject to; and all the previous sections in this Act, so far as circumstances will admit, shall, in the case of the land to be so sold, apply to such land in the same manner as if the land to be purchased with the money to arise from the sale were directed to be freehold, and were actually purchased and settled; and shall, in the case of money subject to be invested in the purchase of land to be so settled, apply to such money in the same manner as if such money were directed to be laid out in the purchase of freehold land, and such land were actually purchased and settled; except that, where under this section a disposition is to be made of leasehold land for years absolute or determinable, so circumstanced, or of money so circumstanced, such leasehold land or money shall, as to the person in whose favour or for whose benefit the disposition is made, be treated as personal estate, and the assurance by which the disposition of such leasehold land or money is effected shall be an assignment by deed which shall have no operation under this Act unless registered in the registry office of the registry division in which the land therein referred to lies within six months after the execution thereof. 10 Edw. VII. c. 52, s. 31.

Powers of such guardian.

V. c. 23, s. 8.

Effect upon persons under a disability.

9. A partition or sale made by the Court shall be as effectual for the apportioning or conveying away of the estate or interest of any married woman, infant or lunatic, party to the proceedings by which the sale or partition is made or declared, as of a person competent to act for himself. 3-4 Geo. V. c. 26, s. 23.

Where front line obliterated.

(4) If the angle of the section or block cannot be ascertained in the mode provided for by the three next preceding subsections the surveyor shall report the circumstances of the case to the Minister who shall determine how the surveyor shall proceed, and the angle ascertained in accordance with the directions of the Minister shall be the true angle of the sections or blocks. 1 Geo. V. c. 42, s. 29.

(2) Where any concession is bounded in front at either end, in part though not wholly, by a river, lake or other natural boundary, and no posts or other boundary marks were planted or made in the original survey on the bank of such river, lake or natural boundary to regulate the widths of the lots broken thereby, the division or side lines of such broken lots shall be drawn from points on the rear of the concession, determined by measuring off the widths proportionately as intended in the original survey, from the intersection of the division or side line of the last whole lot of the original survey with the rear line of the concession, on the same course as the governing line so determined, to the river, lake or natural boundary in front. 1 Geo. V. c. 42, s. 34.

(2) In double front or alternate concessions, where an original post or monument cannot be found, any original post or monument still standing, or the position of which is satisfactorily established on the opposite side of the concession road allowance or on the centre line thereof, shall constitute the best evidence within the meaning of subsection 1 for the purpose of establishing the position of such missing post or monument. 1 Geo. V. c. 42, s. 40.

Evidence for establishing location of missing monument.

41. In a township in which the side lines of the lots were drawn in the original survey a surveyor, when called upon to determine any disputed boundary, shall ascertain and establish the division or side lines of the lots by running them as they were run in the original survey, whether the same were in the original survey run from the front of the concession to the rear or from the rear of the concession to the front, and shall adhere to all posts, limits or monuments planted or marked on the division or side lines in the original survey as being or designating corners of lots under such original survey. 1 Geo. V. c. 42, s. 41.

Side lines in original survey to be adhered to.

V. c. 42, s. 42.

Blind concession lines or lines not run in original survey.

43. Where the front of a concession is wholly or in part broken by a lake, river or other natural boundary the rear boundary of the adjacent concession or part of the concession shall be established by giving to such adjacent concession or part of concession the depth shown on the original plan and field notes. 1 Geo. V. c. 42, s. 43.
